

Famous enjoy Oskars vibe

AS detailed in yesterday's CC, Oskars on Burleigh Restaurant is celebrating its 30th birthday.

From its origins in Elkhorn Avenue to the beach at Coolangatta (still one of the best restaurant openings CC has ever attended) to the present location at Burleigh Heads, Oskars has certainly stood the test of time.

Marty Kollrepp

We asked chef/owner Marty Kollrepp to name some of the good and the grand who have dined there.

"In the old Oskars in Surfers Paradise Greg Norman used to drink at the bar a lot before he went to America, while Elton John, Barry Humphries, Peter Allen, Keanu Reeves, Glenda Jackson, and Fergie the Duchess of York have all eaten here over the years.

"My favourite celebs would be U2 because they were really lovely guys and so down to earth. No fuss, no special requests, just some Irish lads enjoying their life," he said.

You'll also be pleased to know that there are no plans to stop the Oskars Prawns.
